

File Created by Blogging Rebirth WP Plugin

Wedding Rubber Stamps

Wedding rubber stamps are a fun and great way to do your own personalized wedding invitations and save money at the same time. Wedding costs are increasingly rising each year, so creating your own wedding invitations will do wonders to help you save on the overall expenses of your wedding reception or the actual reception. In addition, doing your own invitations with the use of stamps will add to a very memorable experience. If you are aiming for a professional looking and attractive invitation you have to utilize some online resources for accessories, paper and trimmings.

While it's true that your main reason for choosing a do-it-yourself invitation is to save on your expenses, you should be careful not to be too thrifty on the materials that you use so that you'll have a professional looking product. You may choose to check out some online stores as there are so many wonderful suppliers out there for inks, wedding rubber stamps, trims and card stocks that will help you create attractive wedding invitations at the comfort of your home.

Remember that the most important material that you will use for your wedding invitation is the card stock, so make sure that you buy one that's made of superior quality paper. There are lots of gorgeous card stocks available online that are pre-creased in various folds which includes traditional folds, gate folds and tri-folds so that you can pick a design depending on your personal preference and the formality of the occasion. Card stocks come in a wide variety of colors including traditional creams and whites and shimmering metallics to rich jewel tones. You may choose to print directly on the card or you have the option of using the card as a base, then place a parchment paper or vellum over it and just use the card as your background. For a more elegant effect use satins and silks edged in silver, but if you are aiming for a more casual effect opt for raffia or grosgrain ribbon.

If you want to you may add ribbon trims to your invitations. These are popular add-ons which available in a wide variety. For a more customized look, you can use trimmings that match your wedding theme. Thread a small ribbon through the top part, side or bottom of your invitation. You can use an intricate or simple knot, your choice.

Wedding rubber stamps and seals will add a touch of personality on your wedding invitations. If you scour the shops online you should be able to find lovely, elaborate rubber stamps in a variety of motifs like flowers, scrollwork and bells. You can even put your initials with your fiancé and then stamp the interlocking symbol using different colored inks in any area of your choice. Have fun with different patterns that you can use as a border for your invitations or thank you cards for a unique look.

As soon as you have your materials for your wedding invitations, let your imagination take over so that you can send invitations that are uniquely you!

Janet Chua is fairly new to the idea of writing articles online, and has been spending much of her time writing for websites. You can visit one of her latest projects: wedding rubber stamps - and another project which helps people find the best information for decorative rubber stamps

You can also find this article published on Wedding Rubber Stamps, and on the tag pages Card Stock, Card Stocks, Create Invitations, Formality, Memorable Experience, Metallics, Occasion Card, Parchment Paper, Personal Preference, Quality Paper, Raffia, Ribbon Trims, Rich Jewel Tones, rubber, Rubber Stamps, Satins, stamps, Trimmings, Wedding, Wedding Costs, Wedding Invitation, wedding invitation rubber stamp, Wedding Invitations, Wedding Reception.